Glan Ridge Notes.

When the Township Committee is asked the question, what has been done in the way of repairs to the Ridge streets this year? they quickly respond that Thomas Street, Henry Street, Washington Avenue and Midhard Avenue have received atten-tion. So far so good, but what has been done on Clark Street, Hillfidde Avenue, Woodland Avenue, Street, Woodland Avenue, Woodland Woodland Avenue, Snowden Street, Windnor Place and numerous other streets in Gion Ridge proper?

A great many of our citizens have stopped moving their lawns. There is reason in moving their lawns. There is reason in this, as florisis tell us grass lives through the ginter better when not sheared closely Mr. Jarvie of Linden avenue.

We sing with William "The melancholy days have come. The saddlest of the year," etc., when we fook around and beheld all the beautiful leaves dead and gone. It the beautiful leaves dead and gone, gives up old toke a sort of pang, and re-calls to our minds dead and gone castles in the air, and all that. If we were at al poetical, in our present state of mind, we could and would add a couplet or so to The Poets. "My thoughts still ching to the mouldering past; but the hopes of youth fall thick in the blast," though we are not quite sure it needs any addition.

All the houses up and down the streets everywhere are lighted as though all of Glen everywhere are injured as though all of Gren Ridge were holding a grand reception. A gentleman who deals considerably in real citate speaking of the steady growth of Bloomfield says that building lots that can be purchased in almost any part of the town for less than ten dollars a front foot are a first class investment. Two comfortable cottages can be erected on a fifty foot front lot, on a total outlay of $3,500, which is salllowing $500 for the lot. The cottages will rent for $15 per month each.
